The usual route they take to Mt McLeod is from CZST south to the Marmot River, to port. They fly a couple of miles up that river, then turn to port flying up Kate Ryan Creek to the ice fields above.
- If there are injuries, take them to Stewart Trauma Centre at way point M030B. If there are no injuries, pick them up and continue on to Mt McLeod Ice Station (ADF 240) for the beginning of a recovery operation.
