

RETURN TO MISTY MOORINGS

Yes Bay Lodge - 78K
By Doug Linn

WELCOME to Return to Misty Mooring's rendition of the famous YES BAY LODGE. Known to local aviators as "78K" this is a very real destination with custom objects created to give you the feeling of actually visiting the location.

The official website for Yes Bay Lodge is here: <https://yesbay.com/>

From their webpage:

- Yes Bay Lodge lies fifty miles north of Ketchikan in southern Southeast Alaska. Overlooking Yes Bay, the lodge is nestled in the heart of the Tongass National Forest, Earth's largest temperate rainforest. For over 40 years, the Hack family has been welcoming guests to Yes Bay Lodge.
- Setting it apart from many other fishing resorts, Yes Bay Lodge is able to offer guests both saltwater and freshwater fishing, due to its unique location. The myriad nearby lakes and rivers offer some of the finest trout and Dolly Varden fishing available in Southeast Alaska. For the saltwater angler, there are five species of salmon that spawn in the area, including king, silver, sockeye, pink and chum. In addition to the plentiful salmon, you will definitely want to bottom fish for our prized Halibut, Rockfish, and Lingcod.

- For the hiking enthusiast, there are physically challenging trails throughout the rainforest surrounding the lodge. Guided hikes lead to McDonald Lake, traveling along Wolverine Creek. Take one of our kayaks out to explore the back of Yes Bay. There are boat rides available to Bailey Bay, Shrimp Bay, Orchard Lake and Lake Shelokum, as well as the Neets Bay Hatchery where you can have an opportunity to view both brown and black bears. Yes Bay Lodge can also arrange flight tours where you may also visit the bear observatory at Anan Creek, take a floatplane tour of the Misty Fjords National Monument, or fly out to one of the many freshwater lakes or rivers for some awesome freshwater fishing.

Indeed, this would be an exciting vacation for most of us. Fishing, Sightseeing, Great Food, and knowledgeable people would certainly make this a lifetime memory.

It is with real pleasure Return to Misty Moorings can share this location with you.
